DR. GREEN'S 40th ANNIVERSARY

On the evening of Saturday, April 28, a reception was given in honor of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Green by the members of the First Presbyterian church. The occasion of this reception was the fortieth anniversary of the beginning of Dr. Green's pastorate in Danville. It was a great pleasure to both pastor and people to welcome so many of Dr. Green's friends from the other churches of the city and from the community.

As a further commemoration of an event so interesting and unusual as the rounding out of forty years of continuous service as pastor of one church, a union service was held in the First Church Sunday evening. The size of the congregation, as well as the words of the pastors, gave evidence that Dr. Green has won a unique place in the esteem and affection of the people of this community. Just forty years before to the day Dr. Green had preached his first sermon as pastor of the First Church.

Each pastor brought greetings and congratulations from his people, and his own personal tribute as well. Dr. McDowell, as next in length of service to Dr. Green, made the principal address, speaking for the community as well as for his own church. It was a rare speech, full of noble utterances, and the intimate personal touches so fitting on such an occasion. The briefer remarks of the other pastors were in the same spirit, and so graciously put as to be very grateful to both pastor and people of the First Church.

The Rev. J. A. Trostle, as representative of the Presbytery of Transylvania, expressed in very fitting terms the congratulations of the Presbytery. Dr. Green has been a most faithful and influential member of the Presbytery, having missed only one of its regular meetings in forty years. For almost that long he has been the Presbytery's stated clerk.

Professor C. G. Crooks spoke a few words for the members of the First Church, expressing their appreciation of Dr. Green's faithful and fruitful ministrations and their personal love and devotion to him.

The occasion was a memorable one in many ways, and the congregation of the First Church greatly appreciate the tribute paid by both pastors and people of the other churches to their beloved pastor.

Dr. Green expressed his own deep appreciation of the hearty good will and affection shown him by both speakers and audience.

The benediction by Dr. Green brought to a close the exercises of service of delightful Christian fellowship.—Danville Advocate.

THE CHAUTAUQUA MAY 27-31

The ladies of the Woman's Club are losing no time in disposing of season tickets for the Lincoln Chautauqua, which will stretch its big tent in Stanford May 27-31, inclusive. Under this big tent twice daily entertainers of fame will make it interesting to all, for the Lincoln Chautauqua brings to Stanford, people who have given their lives to lyric work and are artists in their line. The Chautauqua of last year was good, but the program to be given this year is superior. Higher priced performers have been engaged and many attractions have been added. The ladies are succeeding nicely in selling season tickets, but they have not supplied all of our people with them. If they have not called on you they will do so when they call, help along a good thing by buying a ticket or two. Season tickets cost $2 and there will be five full days of entertainment. Looks like a bargain to us, and you will think it is if you will attend.

WORMS EAT GREEN THINGS

A successful Lincoln county farmer and gardener told the I. J. this morning that it was not good gardening to clean the garden too close of green things. The cut worms have got to eat something, and if they can not get grass and roots to live on, they will eat seed and sprouts to the detriment of the crops.

Liquor tax schedules of the War Revenue Bill approved Thursday by the House Ways and Means Committee placed a tax of $2 a gallon on whisky and $2.50 a barrel on beer.

FROM SON TO FATHER

The following letter was received by Col. C. R. Coleman, of this city, from his son, Harris Coleman, who is a student at the University of Virginia. The letter is clipped from the Courier-Journal:

My Dear Father: Excuse this paper as it is all I have. I am sorry that you and mother are so stirred up, but I am also myself. You misunderstand Thomas' letter entirely.

I want to try to show you how I feel. In the first place, if there is going to be any conflict on the part of this country, i. e., any tests at arms, well I am going to be sure I know full well how you feel about it, and if I had a son I am sure I would feel the same way. But there is my point. Regardless of how we got into this fight, that is immaterial, the fact alone remains that we are in it, and as a citizen who lives and cherishes the glory and honor and liberty handed down to us by our forefathers I can do nothing else than do what I can to carry on these things which they fought and died for, and come down to the last analysis we are in a way fighting for our liberty, for sure as fate the "mailed fist" had us in line for the next victim when she would have conquered Europe. So I can't see that it is a question of personal convenience and safety. It is far above that.

Secondly, as an enlightened youth who owes it to his education to set the example to those not so fortunate as he is, if he does not set such an example where in the world is it coming from?

Lastly, something is due posterity. So when a person grows older and perhaps he is so fortunate as to be the father of children and they doubtless would want to know if their parent had flinched when the trial came, and picture the disappointment when they should discover that he had failed in an hour of trial. I should think that a fellow had rather be dead. I will tell you if this thing amounts to anything and a fellow don't go he is going to be spending the rest of his life telling why he did not go.

So that's my situation now. What I am planning now is this: I think I will take the regular army examinations for a first lieutenant. Situated as I am, with a college degree, I can pass the examinations all right. I think I have thought it out and think I will do the best thing to do. The examinations are in July some time and I will be able to see you and talk it over with you before then, and by that time I can tell what is going to happen, for if there is going to be peace it will be before July 15, and if not then there is not telling the duration of the war.

Now please don't write and discourage things, for I feel bad enough already. Don't worry and write me, you fully informed. Yours, HARRIS.

Hon. W. G. Gooch had a fine mule killed in a runaway on his farm in the Goshen section Tuesday. One of his sons and three hybrids working to a cutting harrow, when the animals became frightened and got away from him. They ran quite a distance and later got tangled up with the harrow, when one of them was so badly hurt that it died. Fortunately for young Mr. Gooch he was not hurt in the mix-up.

IN BRITISH ARMY TRENCHES

Stanford has one citizen, if not more, fighting in the trenches across the pond. Percy Stewart, son of Harve Stewart, of this place, left about the first of the year and his whereabouts were unknown until a few days ago when his mother received a check from the British for a month's salary for her son, who is in the standing army of that country.

AGED WOMAN CROSSES OVER

At 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, surrounded by family and friends, the spirit of Mrs. James W. Guest, of Crab Orchard, took its flight to mansions above. Her death occurred at Crab Orchard Springs, where Col. and Mrs. Guest had made their home for some time, and was caused by a complication of troubles from which she had been a sufferer for weeks. She is survived by her husband, Col. James W. Guest, four children, Messdames Judith Vass, of Mobile, Ala., and B. G. Boyle, of Chicago, and William P. Guest, of Covington, and Dr. James W. Guest, of New York City, all of whom were present when the end came. Mrs. Guest also leaves three sisters: Messdames Alice Dobbins, of Altoona, Fla., Mary Hoskins, of Louisville, and Laura Moore, of Kingstree, S. C., and one brother, Mr. D. K. Farris, of Crab Orchard. She was born 79 years ago and was a daughter of Henry and Jane Farris, long since gone to their reward. They were prominent people of the East End of the county and their bodies rest at Crab Orchard. For years Mrs. Guest had been a member of the Crab Orchard Christian church and was a most excellent woman in every way. Her death occasions great sorrow in her home town and wherever the splendid wife and mother was known. The sympathy of friends here and elsewhere go out to the family in the fearful loss they have sustained.

Brief funeral services were conducted at Crab Orchard Springs by Mr. J. C. McClary, of this city, at 12:30 today and at 3 o'clock this afternoon all that is mortal of the good woman will be laid to rest in Bellevue Cemetery, Danville.

HOP STANDS CLOSED UP

W. A. Harney and Matt Martin, proprietors of the soft drink houses on Depot street, were tried before a jury in Judge R. L. Davison's court Tuesday afternoon on the charge of selling an intoxicating decoction to a young man named Alford from the Southern End of the county. The man claimed that he had taken nothing stronger than the hops or near-beer sold at those places, but admitted that it had made him drunk, and Judge Davison and others had seen him in a drunken condition. The jury hung, standing four to two for conviction. The four were for giving the soft drink men the limit—$100—but the other two were willing to meet them with a small fine. No compromise could be effected, however, and the jury was discharged. Both Messrs. Harney and Martin expressed a surprise at their drinks causing drunkenness and made a proposition to City Attorney that they would quit selling hops, or whatever the drink is, if the cases were dropped and the money they had paid for license were refunded to them. This was agreed to and Mr. Martin shut up shop at once and Mr. Harney stopped the sale forthwith. The latter's place will remain open as a pool room and eating house but no more of the near-beer stuff will be permitted to go over the counter. This clears Stanford of such places and it is hoped that officers will have a better opportunity to apprehend the bootleggers and others who deal in the fluid that the people have said in thundering tones that they do not want sold in Lincoln county. Martin's license was almost out and Harney's expires about August 1.

CHIEF K. C. SMITH DEAD

Chief Smith, for 40 years a member of Harrodsburg's police force and 30 years of the time its chief, died Monday night after a brief illness. He was a splendid and fearless officer and bore honorable scars received in the discharge of his duty, one of which was the loss of an eye. "Kav," as his legion of friends called him, was a fine old gentleman and he will be missed probably more than any other citizen of Harrodsburg would be. The little city is indeed loser by his taking away.

STEAL MR. TRAYLOR'S CORN

The corn crib of Mr. A. T. Traylor, out on Dix river, was broken into Thursday night and a barrel or so of corn stolen. Mr. Traylor phoned for Lair's bloodhounds and the Hustonville man had them on the scene in a hurry. The dogs made a good trail to the river, but lost it there, and the supposition is that the scamps had a boat there in waiting for them. Mr. Traylor is a very determined man and he may take further steps to locate the thieves.

FEW MARRIED IN APRIL

County Clerk G. B. Cooper informs the I. J. that April was poorest month as far as issuing marriage licenses is concerned. That he has had in years. He sold only five of the necessary papers during that month.

PENCE FARM BRINGS $20,111.00

The First National Auction Co., of Smithfield, N. C., conducted a very successful sale when it disposed of the E. T. Pence, Sr., farm on the Cut-off pike Wednesday. The place contains 150 acres and it brought $20,111.00, which is over $2,000 more than it sold for less than six months ago, when J. H. Wright turned it over to Frank Martin. Messrs. R. J. Sandlin and B. P. Sandlin and F. L. Jerome personally conducted the sale for their company and are more than pleased with the results. They are fine gentlemen to do business with and in street parlance are as "straight as a string." Assisting them on the sale day were O. T. Wallace, of Wilmington, N. C., but formerly of Lancaster, and John A. Wagoner, of Americus, Ga. Col. W. H. Matthews, of Greensboro, N. C., "cried" the sale and did it splendidly. He is not only a good auctioneer, but an excellent entertainer. He gave away some $10 during the morning, a portion of it going to Miss Sue Taylor Engleman, who was voted the prettiest young lady on the grounds.

The home place containing 70 73-100 acres, on which is the handsome brick residence, was bought by J. Crit Eubanks at $165.50 per acre. J. H. Browning bought the 33 acres across the pike, on which there is a good barn, but no dwelling, at $152.50, and Frank Martin got the remainder of the farm—47 acres of upland on the same side of Cut-off pike the residence is at $74.

The Danville Military Band furnished sweet music for the occasion and a substantial lunch was served at the conclusion of the sale.

PROF. CANEER ELECTED SUPT.

The trustees of the Stanford High and Graded School, at their meeting Wednesday night, elected Prof. M. L. Caneer, superintendent for the next scholastic year to succeed Prof. W. C. Wilson, who did not stand for reelection. Prof. Caneer, who is now teaching in the high school at Richmond, was superintendent of the Lancaster High and Graded School several years ago. He comes highly recommended both as a teacher and a gentleman and will be welcomed to Stanford. It is a source of general regret, however, that Prof. Wilson will not be with the school again. His work has been of a high order and he has made a legion of friends during his sojourn here. Wherever he and Mrs. Wilson locate their good wishes will be with them. Miss Ellen Ballou, who has had charge of the instrumental music department of the school for a long time, was elected again to the delight of everybody, and Miss Elizabeth Higgins, who has taken care of the vocal end, will serve in that capacity again, patrons of the school and her many friends will be glad to know. The First National Bank was elected treasurer of the school, paying $125 for the privilege. The Lincoln County National Bank's bid was $105.

TO CONTRACTORS

The Hustonville Graded Common School District will erect at Hustonville a two-story brick school building and wants bids on it from reliable contractors. Specifications and blue prints of it can be had from the secretary of the board of trustees, John B. Riffe, at Hustonville, Ky. All bids must be in the secretary's hands by Saturday, May 19, 1917. The trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

MARRIAGES

Ira Grimes, of Garrard, and Miss Luella Pullins, of Madison, were married in Lexington Tuesday.

Miss Jane Parker Tamme, formerly of this county, and William Floyd Parker, of Nashville, were quietly married in Louisville Monday, Dr. W. L. Winburn, pastor of the Walnut Street Baptist church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Parker will make their home in Louisville.

WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE

The taxpayers of Hustonville Graded Common School district will vote Saturday, May 19th, on a bond issue of $12,000 to pay for a school building to be erected in Hustonville on the site of the old Christian College, which was destroyed by wind some months since. It is probable that the bond issue will carry by a big majority, as everybody in the West End wants a good school and school building.

LATEST WAR NEWS

After their customary terrific artillery preparation, in which guns of all calibers were used, the British along the entire front surged forward in the early hours of the morning and throughout Thursday in the bright spring sunshine were at grips with the enemy.

Nightfall found the British well in possession of several points of vantage, which they had captured in the face of most stubborn resistance, and held with a withering fire of machine guns and rifles against powerful counter attacks.

Berlin asserts that the British attempt to break through the German line failed under heavy casualties. The British War Office makes no claim that the troops of Field Marshal Haig pierced the German front, but it does assert that west of Quenat the enemy lines were penetrated and the village of Fresnoy taken.

That Germany's submarine arm, not her military arm, is the menace which for the moment is greatest for the future welfare of the United States and the Entente Allies is recognized by the chancelleries of all the Powers which are at war with Germany.

The last days of April saw the under-water boats send to the bottom hundreds of thousands of tons of shipping, which means that huge quantities of ammunition and foodstuffs, the receipt of which would have greatly heartened Great Britain and France, have been irrevocably lost to them and made the pinch of want to those countries their soldiers and their people more acute.

Impetus is being given to the plans to combat the menace by all the countries at war with Germany, and hopes are expressed that shortly a check may be put to the inroads of the submarines into commerce.

Secretary Lane estimated the losses of the past week at 400,000 tons, while the Shipping Board said 300,000 tons was nearer the correct figure.

The American steamer Rockingham was sunk by a German submarine. One boat containing thirteen men is missing. The steamer carried a gun crew and a cargo valued at more than $2,000,000.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the city council was held last night in the office of Mayor A. B. Florence. The license paid by W. A. Harney and Matt Martin, who have conducted soft drink houses here, was ordered refunded from April 25 to the date of expiration. Both places are closed as far as selling hops or near beer is concerned. Marshal B. D. Carter was ordered to enforce the ordinance against auto speeding. The oiling proposition was discussed and turned over to the street committee and some work on the streets was ordered. Very little business came before the body and it was in session hardly an hour.

MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

A message was received here last night from Canton, Ohio, by Mrs. Belle Perkins, that her son, Walter Perkins, who is connected with some electrical house at that place, had met with a very serious accident and was in an alarming condition. Mrs. Perkins and her son, Lee Perkins, left this morning. Dr. J. B. Perkins received a message this morning saying one of his limbs had to be amputated and that he was in a very critical condition.

COLLECTING MONEY FOR OIL

The ladies of the Woman's Club are succeeding splendidly in collecting money with which to pay a part on the oil that will be put on the streets, but they still need a little more of the filthy lucre.
